More specifically the invention relates to the use of a catheter to form an opening in a peritoneal cap or a sheath covering the entire renal artery orifice to replace the function of the sheath or cap. The renal artery is the artery which supplies the kidney. A progressive deterioration of the kidney function can be caused by two different factors. Firstly, by the obstruction to the blood flow. Such obstruction may be produced by kidney tumor or an adenoma. Secondly, by the degeneration of the vascular wall. In 82157476af
